Advisory Insurance Brokers Limited Fair Processing Notice

The privacy and security of your information is important to us. This notice explains who we are, the types of information we hold, how we use it, who we share it with and how long we keep it. It also informs you of certain rights you have regarding your personal information under current data protection law. We will update this notice as required and at least annually and therefore, we suggest you revisit this notice periodically to keep yourself informed.

The terms used in this Fair Processing Notice are based on those used by the Information Commissioner’s Office. You can find out more about the ICO here: <https://ico.org.uk/>

Who are we?

Advisory Insurance Brokers Limited trading as BSIS, (part of the Ardonagh Group) is the Data Controller of the information you provide us and is registered with the Information Commissioner’s Office for the products and services we offer.

You can contact us for general data protection queries by email to advisorydataprotection@ardonagh.com or in writing to The Ardonagh Advisory Data Protection Officer, The Ardonagh Group, The Octagon, Colchester, CO1 1TG. Please advise us of as much detail as possible to comply with your request.

For further information about The Ardonagh Group of companies please visit <http://www.ardonagh.com/about-us/business-portfolio>.

What information do we collect?

To enable us to provide you with the products or services to meet your needs we will collect personal information which may include your name, telephone number, email address, postal address, occupation, date of birth, additional details of risks related to your enquiry or product and payment details (including bank account number and sort code). Some of these details may also be required about other individuals who will benefit from the product or services we provide. In some of our call centre operations we may routinely record telephone conversations.

We may need to request and collect sensitive personal information such as details of convictions or medical history for us to provide you with the product or service or to process a claim.

We only collect and process sensitive personal data where it is critical for the delivery of a product or service and without which the product or service cannot be provided. We will therefore not seek your explicit consent to process this information as it is required by us to provide the product or service you have requested and is legitimised by its criticality to the service provision. If you object to use of this information, then we will be unable to offer you that product or service.

Where you have given consent for the processing of your data, you may withdraw that consent at any time.

Please note that typically we process data on the legal basis that it relates to a contract of insurance, or a contract to provide you with risk advice, so the right to erasure, which does not apply to personal information processed for a contractual purpose, will not be applicable in many instances.

However, we may also collect personal data for marketing purposes from publicly available sources or product development purposes where it is in our legitimate interests to do so.

How do we use your personal information?

We will use your personal information for the purposes set out in the table below.

Purpose for which we may process your data	Legal basis for processing this data
Assess and provide the products or services that you have requested; this may include a search with a credit reference bureau, or data enrichment services	Processing in connection with a contract
Communicate with you to provide our services, including risk advice	Processing in connection with a contract
Develop new products and services	Legitimate interests

Undertake statistical and risk analysis	This will be on a legitimate interests basis unless we conduct specific work for you on a contractual basis
Marketing and self-promotional activity	Legitimate interests
Support monitoring and quality management of our employees and processes	Processing in connection with a contract

We may also take the opportunity to

- Contact you about products that are closely related to those you already hold with us
- Provide additional assistance and advice about risk and insurance news, products, or services, as part of any advised insurance services that we provide to you
- Notify you of important functionality changes to our websites

From time to time we may use your information to provide you with details of marketing or promotional opportunities and offers relating to other products and services from other companies in the Ardonagh Group, subject to relevant marketing regulations and permissions. To ensure the confidentiality and security of the information we hold, we may need to request personal information and ask security questions to satisfy ourselves that you are who you say you are.

We may aggregate information and statistics on website usage or for developing new and existing products and services, and we may also provide this information to third parties. These statistics will not include information that can be used to identify any individual.

Any new information you provide us may be used to update an existing record we hold for you.

Securing your personal information

We have implemented mandatory security procedures in the storage and disclosure of your personal information in line with industry practices, including storage in electronic and paper formats.

We store all the information that you provide to us, including information provided via forms you may complete on our websites, and information which we may collect from your browsing (such as clicks and page views on our websites).

We also require our business partners, suppliers, and third parties to implement mandatory security procedures that are equivalent to our own, to protect your information from unauthorised access, use, and disclosure.

When do we share your information?

To help us prevent financial crime, your details may be submitted to fraud prevention agencies and other organisations where your records may be searched, including the Claims and Underwriting Exchange (CUE) and the Motor Insurers Anti-Fraud and Theft Register (MIAFTR).

In addition to companies within the Ardonagh Group, third parties (for example insurers or loss adjustors, data enrichment services, credit lenders or claims management companies) deliver some of our products or provide all or part of the service requested by you. In these instances, while the information you provide will be disclosed to these companies, it will only be used for the provision and administration of the service provided (for example verification of any quote given to you or claims processing, underwriting and pricing purposes or to maintain management information for analysis).

This may also include conducting a search with a credit reference bureau. We will never make a search that leaves a record on you credit history without informing you first.

We may use firms involved in financial management regarding payment.

We may also share your data with other companies who carry out market research on our behalf and who may contact you for the purpose of obtaining feedback on the products and services we offer.

We may share contact information within The Ardonagh Group of companies to assist in providing you with risk advice and keeping you informed about additional products and services. For more information on the companies within the Ardonagh Group, please click here <http://www.ardonagh.com/about-us/business-portfolio>.

The data we collect about you may be transferred to, and stored at, a destination outside of the European Economic Area ("EEA"). It may also be processed by staff operating outside of the EEA who work for us or for one of our suppliers. Such staff may be engaged in, amongst other things, the provision of information you have requested. Whenever we send information outside of the EEA, we will ensure that we have taken the appropriate steps to do so in a manner compliant with the relevant data protection legislation.

We may of course be obliged by law to pass on your information to the police or other law enforcement body, or statutory or regulatory authority including but not limited to the Employer's Liability Tracing Office (ELTO) and the Motor Insurance Bureau (MIB).

We may also share your information with anyone you have authorised to deal with us on your behalf.

If we provide information to a third party, we will require it and any of its agents and/or suppliers to take all steps reasonably necessary to ensure that your data is treated securely and in accordance with this Fair Processing Notice.

How long do we keep your information for?

We will not keep your personal information longer than is necessary for the purpose for which it was provided unless we are required by law or have other legitimate reasons to keep it for longer (for example if necessary to meet legal and regulatory obligations).

We will typically keep information for 6 years after termination or cancellation of a product, contract or service we provide, or the closure of a claim or complaint. In certain cases, we will keep your information for longer, particularly where a product includes liability insurances or types of insurance for which a claim could potentially be made by you or a third party at a future date, even after your contract with us has ended.

Your rights

There are a number of rights that you have under data protection law. Commonly exercised rights are:

Access – You may reasonably request a copy of the information we hold about you. ICO guidance

Erasure - Where we have no legitimate reason to continue to hold your information, you have the right to have your data deleted (sometimes known as the right to be forgotten). ICO guidance

We may use automated decision making in processing your personal information for some services and products. You can request a manual review of the accuracy of an automated decision if you are unhappy with it. ICO guidance

Marketing - If you wish to inform us of changes in consent for marketing, please contact us at the address or telephone number indicated in any recent correspondence or emails you have received from us.

How to complain

If you have any concerns about our use of your personal information, you can make a complaint to us by email to advisorydataprotection@ardonagh.com or in writing to The Ardonagh Advisory Data Protection Officer, The Ardonagh Group, 2nd Floor, The Octagon, Colchester, CO1 1TG.

You can also complain to the ICO if you are unhappy with how we have used your data.
